

Costello Suffers Wound Of Scalp

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—Gambler Frank Costello suffered a grazing bullet wound of the scalp tonight in what police called "an apparent attempt at assassination."

The shooting occurred in the lobby of Costello's apartment house at 115 Central Park West, a plush Manhattan area, police said.

Costello was treated at Roosevelt Hospital, and was scheduled for quick discharge.

Officers said Costello's wife and William Kennedy, a theatrical agent, were with him at the time of the shooting. They said they had just come by taxi from a restaurant on East 55th Street, where they had had dinner with Generoso Pope, publisher of an Italian-language paper, when the shooting occurred.

Detectives quoted Costello as saying that he, his wife and Kennedy were just passing through the building's street door into the lobby when he felt a sting above his right ear, then a quick flow of blood.

All three told police they

Frank Costello heard no shot and did not see the gunman. After a few moments they went to Roosevelt Hospital by taxi. Costello, who has been described as one of the most powerful figures in national gambling and racketeering circles, was convicted in 1954 of evading $28,532 in federal income taxes. He began a five-year prison term last May, but was released in $25,000 bond.

He was freed by the Supreme Court pending a ruling on whether the law under which he was convicted provides a maximum sentence of only one year. An earlier bid for freedom on bail pending his appeal was denied by a U. S. Court of Appeals.

Hospital doctors said the bullet took a freakish course. It evidently struck him at the left ear, burrowed under the scalp and partway around the back of his head, and emerged close to the right ear.

They said X-rays showed no damage to the skull.

The 65-year-old Costello, who has said under oath that he is suffering from cancer, heart trouble and ulcers, lived quietly in the upper-story apartment with his wife.

$2 Million Awarded By State For New Bridges

By Paul Carlson

CLOSE TO $2-MILLION in contracts have been awarded for the reconstruction of 24 flood-damaged bridges in Monroe County, the State Highways Department announced yesterday.

In addition to $1,977,531.92 already let in contracts, the department plans to advertise for bids on nine other spans in the near future.

Figures released by highway officials show that plans are being designed for the interborough bridge. It is hoped that the project can be let by August 1.

Under design at Harrisburg are the plans for the new W. Main St. bridge, which is expected to go to bids by July 1, the figures show.

Highway officials met with councilmen of the twin boroughs Wednesday night, and it was agreed that a four-lane span should replace the old two-lane interborough bridge. No estimate was made of construction costs.

Here is a rundown of work completed on bridges already under contract, together with the cost of construction:

Stroudsburg, $87,880.33, 100 percent completed, except for resurfacing of approaches; three bridges at Bartonville, $398,395.85, 95 percent, approaches to be resurfaced; two bridges, Henryville, $51,600.10, 90 percent, approaches to be resurfaced.

Pocono Pines, $59,352.20, 84 percent, approach work to be done—bridge deck completed; two bridges, Mountainhome, $62,971.38, 80 percent, approach work to be done; two bridges, Henryville—Stille's Bridge, $406,847.40, 80 percent, bridge completed, roadway to be constructed.

Paradise Valley, $26,692.70, 75 percent, roadway to be constructed; three bridges, Tannersville, $136,734.21, 70 percent, waiting for beams; two bridges, Swiftwater, $127,959.90, 65 percent, abutments completed, waiting for steel; two bridges, Canadensis, $63,819.95, 70 percent, approaches remaining to be done; two bridges, Buck Hill Falls, $103,532.10, 60 percent, waiting for steel.

Two bridges, Stroudsburg, $141,168.30, 50 percent, south abutments completed, driving piling for north abutment and pier; Blakeslee, $143,500.45, 25 percent, driving piling for abutments and piers; north of Snydersville, $42,400.55, 25 percent, footings poured and one abutment; Coveville, $53,818.50, 20 percent, footing poured; Stokes Mill, $70,858, contract just let.

Under design are plans and specifications for work from Swiftwater to Henryville, at Neola, at East Stroudsburg, over the DL&W tracks, and over Broadhead Creek.

The Highway Department further disclosed that a temporary bridge at Paradise Valley is satisfactory and will not be replaced.

Storm-Filled Political Career Ends

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Death wrote an end tonight to the storm-filled career of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, one of the 20th century's most controversial political figures.

The Wisconsin Republican died at 6:02 p.m. EDT at the Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md., of an inflammation which broke down the functioning of his liver. He was 47.

In this capital, which saw him rise to national attention with his Red-hunting campaigns and then fade into relative obscurity, friend and foe alike expressed shock at his passing. Old feuds were forgotten for the moment as leaders spoke of their sorrow.

President Eisenhower, who had grown so cold to McCarthy that the senator was crossed off the White House social invitation list, made this statement:

"I have just been informed of the sudden passing of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

"Mrs. Eisenhower joins me in extending our profound sympathy to Mrs. McCarthy in the grievous personal loss she has sustained."

Within a half-hour after McCarthy died the flag over the Senate was dropped to half staff.

Truman

Former President Harry S. Truman, in New York City for a lecture, said: "Too bad. I'm very sorry to hear the news of the senator's death."

McCarthy was a key figure in the investigations of communism and alleged communism which aroused high feelings in the early 1950s, but his career faded after the Senate voted condemnation of some of his conduct in 1954.

McCarthy's death came five days after he was hospitalized for a liver inflammation, acute hepatitis.

He is survived by his wife and former Senate aide, Jean Kerr McCarthy, and the infant daughter they adopted early this year.

McCarthy had been ill for varying periods over the past few years, suffering from sinus trouble, bursts and a knee injury which he attributed to a steel fragment lodging in the knee during his World War II service as a Marine officer in the South Pacific.

Mrs. McCarthy was at the senator's bedside when he died. Medical officials of the hospital were in attendance.

Officially the death was attributed to "acute hepatic failure."

His death cuts the Republican membership in the Senate to 46, compared with the Democrats' 49. Wisconsin's Republican Gov. Vernon W. Thompson is prohibited by state law from naming a successor to McCarthy but can call a special election to choose another senator.

Fire Burns 7,500 Acres

TOMS RIVER, N. J., May 2 (AP)—A forest fire that burned out 7,500 acres of pine barrens was declared under control today.

Bernard W. Bartlett, division forest fire warden here, who said the fire was under control by 4:30 p.m., called it the worst forest fire in Ocean County since 1944.

A 1944 fire burned out 15,000 acres. Bartlett said the fire caused no property damage other than an unidentified hunting lodge deep in the woods.

He also said he had no report of injuries suffered by any of the 150 forest fire service men and an uncounted number of volunteer fire fighters who battled the two-day blaze.

McDonald Ready For Inquiry

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the 1,200,000 member United Steel Workers Union, said today his union has "nothing to hide" and will welcome any inquiry by the Senate rackets investigating committee.

The committee has announced no such investigation but the New York Times said yesterday the committee was looking into alleged associations of McDonald and other labor union leaders with Philip Weiss, head of a New York oil products firm.

CAB Official Named As Possible 'Leak'

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Raymond Sawyer, a high official of the Civil Aeronautics Board, was named today as the possible source of a "leak" of secret and valuable CAB information. Sawyer promptly denied it.

He swore before a Senate inquiry group that he had never disclosed to anyone CAB's decision last Aug. 2 to award Northeast Airlines a money-making New York-Miami route.

Sawyer, associate director of CAB's Bureau of International Air Operations, was called before the Senate investigations subcommittee after another witness, Laurence Henderson, changed his story and acknowledged he might have gotten a tip on the route award from Sawyer.

Flushed and perspiring—and on second thought—Henderson said he believes he did get a call from Sawyer on Aug. 3.

Sawyer's subsequent testimony was that he had not talked to Henderson that day and that the only time in his life he had talked to Henderson was on Aug. 10—and then about another matter.

Commenting on the conflicting testimony, Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), a subcommittee member, said Sawyer's "life is destroyed" if Henderson's statements stand up.

Symington asked whether it wasn't true that Henderson has "perjured himself."

Donald F. O'Donnell, the subcommittee's counsel, said that "in effect" Symington was right.

After a partial transcript of Henderson's testimony was read to him, Sawyer said: "I deny calling him on the third."

"About anything?" he was asked.

"Yes."

The Senate group is trying to find out whether the CAB decision in favor of Northeast was actually leaked, enabling speculators to make a quick profit in Northeast stock.

McLeod Wins Major Round In Fight For Ambassador Post

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Scott McLeod, controversial State Department security chief, won a major round today in his fight to become ambassador to Ireland.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved his nomination 9-6 and predictions were heard that the Senate would follow suit.

But it took some fast footwork by Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) to defeat a Democratic-inspired move to postpone committee action on McLeod's nomination for a week. Democratic foes had hoped by such a move to gain time to kill the nomination.

Opponent

Committee Chairman Green (D-R.I.), an opponent of McLeod, said he talked last night on the telephone with Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter and advised him of much opposition to McLeod.

He said Herter agreed "because he was new at the job" and expressed belief a one-week delay might help McLeod's chances.

During today's closed-door committee session, Green said, Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) pushed a motion for a week's delay. But during debate on the motion, Green continued, Sen. Knowland went to the telephone and called up Herter and brought back a message he had withdrawn his request for a postponement.

Democratic Sens. Mansfield (Mont.) and Long (Ala.) lined up with seven Republicans to give the 41-year-old McLeod his victory.

Fact-Finding Mission Slated

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The Council of the Organization of American States, moving to end a threat of war between Nicaragua and Honduras, voted unanimously to send a fact-finding mission to the tension area.

It also voted 19-0—with Honduras and Nicaragua abstaining—to call the hemispheric foreign ministers together to consult on the crisis. A date and site for this meeting was not fixed immediately.

Beck Charged With Income Tax Evasion

TACOMA, Wash., May 2 (AP)—Dave Beck, the onetime laundry driver who built a personal fortune in his rise to the presidency of one of the nation's biggest labor unions, was charged here today with income tax evasion.

A federal grand jury returned a two-count indictment against the Teamsters' Union chief after it was recommended quietly to hear the case.

The first count charges him with failure to report $88,828 of 1950 income on which additional taxes of $56,420 should have been paid.

The second count accuses Beck of assisting in preparation of a false tax return for the Teamsters' Joint Council No. 28 Building Assn., in Seattle, in the same year.

It alleged that the Joint Council Building Assn. had expended $16,718 for building payments and alterations when it "had in truth expended a substantially lesser sum."

Bench Warrant

Judge George H. Boldt ordered a bench warrant issued immediately for the 63-year-old union leaders' arrest. He set bond at $5,000.

In Washington, D.C., where Beck is scheduled for another appearance before the Special Senate Rackets Committee, a spokesman quoted him as saying that because he has not been notified officially of the grand jury action "and on advice of counsel, I cannot comment on the matter at this time."

The maximum possible penalty under each count of the indictment is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The indictment was returned just 13 days before the statute of limitations would have ended any chance of prosecution for charges dating back to 1950.

The indictment came only an hour after announcement in Beck's home city of Seattle of the appointment of two special prosecutors to direct a King County grand jury probe into handling of Teamsters' Union funds by Beck and Frank Brewster. The latter succeeded him as head of the Teamsters' 11-state Western Conference.

United States Seeks Russian Explanation

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—The United States intends to seek point-by-point explanations from Russia of its latest disarmament proposal although some provisions already been written off here as wholly unacceptable.

This was disclosed by State Department officials today following initial analysis of the proposition made by Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin in United Nations disarmament negotiations in London on Tuesday.

Provision
One of the unacceptable provisions, these informants said, is the Russian call for mutual aerial inspection of a vast area of Siberia and a huge region of the western United States. They pointed out that the latter is heavily populated and highly industrialized.

Nevertheless, State Department officials said the Soviet proposal is worth looking into in that it may offer at least a partial basis for further negotiations.

The belief persists here that the Soviet Union is showing a more serious interest in disarmament negotiation than it has at any time in past years.

World War One Hero To Benefit

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Few men showed more patriotism during World War I than Robert Burns DeWitt of Limestone County, Texas.

After consulting with an Army major, he scurried around lining up recruits. He bagged 156 of them, and for around a month he kept them in a hall he had rented, transported them, laundered them and fed them at his own expense.

Eventually he was to sell his car and a share in a house and farm to help pay the $4,100 in bills he ran up as a one-man recruiting service.

Now, almost 40 years later, Army officials agree he should be paid for the money he spent. A bill providing the $4,100 for DeWitt has passed the House and now is before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Fouled Up

The story shows how easy it is to get fouled up when dealing with the government.

A Maj. Chester Machin approached DeWitt, who was Limestone County auditor, and asked if he would do some recruiting. DeWitt agreed after Judge J. E. Bradley and Judge C. S. Bradley, both of Groesbeck, Tex., said they would loan him the money.

He was to round up at least 150 Texans and take care of them until they could be taken into the Army.

Well, the first catch came when the men were ready for the Army but the Army wasn't ready for the men.

There was a 30-day delay, during which time DeWitt spent $375 for rent, $150 for a laborer to wash the laundry, $125 for telephoning, $150 to tote the recruits about and $3,000 in meals.

DeWitt made several attempts to collect his money, but the hitch here was that no one could decide whether it should be paid by the Texas National Guard or by the Army. So neither did.

Ike Drops Plan For Egypt, Syria, Jordan Participation

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave up on Egypt, Syria and Jordan as participants at this time in his military-economic plan for combating Middle East communism.

The President called home his special ambassador, James P. Richards, choosing not to have him mark time waiting for invitations to visit these three Arab countries.

The invitations seemed unlikely to be forthcoming. All three nations had made clear they took a dim view of the Eisenhower resolution and its 200 million ready dollars. Each, in its own way, had cold-shouldered Richards.

It was to get him out of this embarrassing situation that the State Department last week announced Richards would go to Bonn, West Germany, to confer with Secretary of State Dulles. Dulles went to Bonn Tuesday for a North Atlantic Treaty meeting.

The State Department said last week that Dulles and Richards would meet to plan the rest of Richards' itinerary through the Middle East to explain the Eisenhower plan.

But Eisenhower decided yesterday to cancel that meeting. Instead, he directed Richards to return to Washington. For the record, it was explained that Richards is coming here to help prepare the new foreign aid bill.

Officials made little effort, however, to hide a more practical reason. This was that, after touring 12 countries in six weeks and with three more on his schedule, Richards simply was not welcome in Egypt, Syria and Jordan.

The State Department said that after going from Greece to Israel tomorrow, Richards will visit Tunisia on Saturday and Morocco on Monday, returning to Washington next Wednesday. On Thursday he is scheduled to attend a meeting of congressional leaders on foreign aid at the White House.

Senate Takes Step On State Bonus Plan

HARRISBURG, May 2 (AP)—The Senate today took the final legislative step to permit the voters to express an opinion next November on payment of a 150 million dollar bonus to 300,000 Pennsylvania Korean veterans.

At the same time the Senate Appropriations Committee advanced for consideration next week enabling legislation that would set up the machinery for the bonus payment, if approved in the referendum.

The referendum proposal passed both houses of the General Assembly in this and the previous Legislature, a prerequisite for the statewide vote.

Provision
The enabling legislation would provide payments of $10 a month for domestic service and $5 a month additional for foreign service between June 1950 and July 1953 up to a maximum of $500. The referendum measure passed 49-0 without debate.

There were 19 Republican and 9 Democratic lawmakers in their seats when the vote was taken. The others were recorded in favor of the measure by consent.

The bonus measure was one of nine proposals for constitutional changes before the Senate today—a record high for such legislation in any one day in either house.

House Defeats Bill

HARRISBURG, May 2 (AP)—House today defeated Senate approved bill that would have allowed railroad directors to create an executive committee to operate the system.

Fire Burns Over 500 Acres In Region Of Effort Mountain

Third Blaze Halted In Barrett Area

EFFORT—Fire raced through some 400 to 500 acres of woodland on Effort Mountain yesterday, but volunteer firefighters reportedly had the blaze under control last night.

District Forester E. Clyde Pyle said the fire was located in Carbon County between Route 115 at Long Pond and Meeksville. He reported it was south of one which broke out Wednesday.

The blaze broke out about 10 a. m., according to Harrison Slutter, towerman at Pimple Hill. He said it appeared to be under control last night, but emphasized he could not be certain from his vantage point.

Middle Smithfield

Earlier, volunteers extinguished another woods fire by 2:30 a. m. yesterday which burned over close to 150 acres in Middle Smithfield Township, Pyle said.

Pyle said further the blaze was fanned into being again yesterday morning. However, it was confined to the center of the charred area. A third blaze broke out south of the railroad tracks in Cresco yesterday, Pyle also disclosed. However, it was quickly extinguished by the Barrett Township firemen.

House Turns Down Proposal On Time

HARRISBURG, May 2 (U)—The House today turned down a proposal that would require the Liquor Control Board to give licensees the option of deciding if they want to observe Standard or Daylight Saving Time.

The House defeated the Senate-approved bill 89-30. One hundred six House votes are needed to pass legislation.

Authority

The Liquor Control Board now has the authority to establish hours for all sales in the state. This year it adopted a resolution ordering all establishments to observe the time used in the local community. The board ruled last year that liquor sales were governed by Standard Time across the state. In years previous to 1956 the ruling was the same as this year.

Rep. Goldstein (R-Allegheny), who opposed the bill, contended the measure would allow licensees across the street from each other to observe different opening and closing times.

In other action the House passed 125-12 a bill to prevent liquor licensees from transferring their licenses so that a group of licensed establishments are grouped together. The measure goes to the Senate.

HARRISBURG, May 2 (U)—The state Insurance Department today fixed May 13 for public hearings at Philadelphia on proposed changes in fire insurance rates for buildings and their contents.

The proposals have been filed by the Middle Department Assn. of Fire Underwriters.

Francis R. Smith, department commissioner, said most of the proposed changes would be "relatively minor" except in Philadelphia where rates would be boosted on certain buildings and contents.

Students Receive Look Into Future During East Stroudsburg High's Career Conference

REPRESENTATIVES of various trades and professions yesterday met with students at the East Stroudsburg Area Joint Senior High School, as they held their third annual career conference.

Robert Gordon, president of the Boys Council, explained the organization and purpose of the conference as it opened with an all student assembly in the auditorium.

A survey of employment opportunities in this area was then presented by Ray F. Beers, employer relations representative in Monroe and Pike counties.

Beers noted that job opportunities are at a very high peak.

with diversification of industry providing for more than 60 employment classifications.

The students then heard from Dr. LeRoy Koehler, president of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, who discussed the opportunities the institution offers local young people.

In some colleges, he said, day students are not part of the college life. But they are just as important to the life of State Teachers College as the boarding student.

Following the assembly, each student attended a vocational discussion conference of his particular choice. About 30 consultants representing a wide variety of schools and professions were present.

The conference concluded with a showing of two vocational films, "Finding Your Life's Work," and "You and Your Work." Carol Hilyard, president of the Girls Council, gave a short introduction preceding the film presentation.

About 55 personal interviews were held with the different consultants following group discussions.

Ben Hollingsworth, a representative of the Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton Airport, remained for an afternoon session to address some of the boys on electronics.

Cub Master Robert Ziegler welcomed new Cub parents Mr. and Mrs. W. Smyser, new Den Mother Mrs. Richard Shoemith and new Cub Scouts Douglas Marvin and Lair Smyser, all from Den One, and guests from Pack 305 of Dickson City, Scranton.

Each Den displayed handicraft related to the theme which was worked at home by parents and Cubs.

It was also announced that the Cub Scouts and parents would meet at the Barrett Firehouse, with the leaders to inspect the Firehouse on May 19 at 2 p.m. and will then plant 1,000 trees for Pack 89's Conservation Program. After the planting of the trees the Cubs and leaders will enjoy a picnic.

The skit for the month was a puppet show put on by Den Five, under the supervision of Den Mother Mrs. Blendine Vrolijk and Den Mother and Den Dad Mr. and Mrs. Lee Megargle. Also helping with the puppet show were Mrs. Byron Jones and Mr. Ray Weiboldt. The show was called "Boys of the Swiss Family Robinsons" with Cub Scouts Keith Megargle, Robert Soppko, Ronnie Shinnen, Ed. Robacker, Paul Jones and William Weiboldt as the boys.

The Webelos Den, Mr. Charles Villa leading, gave a knot tying exhibition with Paul Ziegler and Robert Shinnen tying the knots.

Soviet Union's New Threat Appears Timed

BONN, Germany, May 2 (AP) — The Soviet Union's new threat to West Germany of atomic devastation appears carefully timed to poison the atmosphere of this week's conference of the NATO foreign ministers in Bonn.

With this move, Moscow has insured that the blazing controversy among the Germans over atomic armament will be at a fever pitch during the conference.

In this atmosphere, the ministers meet here from Thursday through Saturday for crucial decisions on the future of the Atlantic Alliance, including the question of arming the German Bundeswehr (army) with atomic weapons.

Issue

Even before the Soviet warning that Germany could be turned into "one big cemetery" through nuclear retaliation, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had been driven into a tight political corner over the atomic issue.

The nation's leading nuclear scientists, the powerful trade unions and the three opposition parties joined to assail his plans to arm German troops with tactical A-bombs.

The 81-year-old Chancellor faces a hard election battle in September. Adenauer, who had expected the nation's prosperity to clinch his re-election to a third term, is clearly on the defensive of the atomic issue.

Church Group To Work On Grounds

TANNERSVILLE — "Cleanup Night" is scheduled for Monday at the Tannersville Reformed Church. It was announced yesterday by George Niering.

Niering has requested a large turnout to clean up the church and cemetery grounds. Each person is asked to bring a rake or clippers. In case of rain the "cleanup" project will be held on Wednesday.

20 Veterans Invited

TOKYO, May 2 (AP) — Communist China has invited 20 Japanese veterans who served in China in World War II to make an extensive tour of the country to view changes under the Red regime.

Plans Made For Annual Picnic

BANGOR — Plans for the annual Sunday School Picnic of the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church were made on Wednesday night at the regular meeting of the Sunday School Board. It was announced that the picnic would be held at Bushkill Park on August 10 with transportation being furnished by the church school.

Harold Anglemeyer, superintendent of the Sunday School, had charge of the meeting when routine reports were made by Wallace Ruth, treasurer and Leroy Stross, secretary. Rev. John Brumbaugh, pastor of the church discussed the leadership training program being planned by the local church.

It was announced that the annual Children's Day program would be held in the church on Sunday, June 9. On that day a combined Sunday School and worship service will be held. Named to the committee on arrangements for Children's Day were: Mrs. Helen Becker, Mrs. Charles Speer, Mrs. Anthony Turtzo, Mrs. Frank Albert, Mrs. John Linaberry, Mrs. Claude Jones, Mrs. Helen Rutt and Miss Bonnie Gail Rice.

725 Bangor High Students Cast Ballots By Machine

BANGOR — Some 725 Bangor Area Joint High School students using voting machines on loan from the Northampton County Board of Elections cast ballots for candidates for various school offices on Wednesday. It was a day devoted to politics and voting experience for all the pupils, who had the same opportunities as do their parents on election day.

They registered their party preference several days ago, candidates campaigned making a variety of promises, and Wednesday was the day of decision.

Judy Kressler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kressler of S. Second St. on a write in campaign was elected as the president of the student government. In addition to being the choice of the students, the president elect must be in the upper one-fourth of her class and be active in various areas of the school program.

Others elected to the student government include: Robert Menhennitt of the student rights party, vice president; Rozanna Turtzo of the student government party, named secretary, and Frank Butz of the student welfare party was elected treasurer.

In the other contest Roger Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow A. Horn, of Washington Township, was elected mayor for a day. On May 6, Horn in company with 12 council members elected from the six classes at the high school will meet jointly with the Bangor Borough Council.

Millard Gleim, adviser to the student council in company with the social studies teachers of the high school, supervised the "election day experience" for the student body.

Writers Report On Progress Of Works

MR. AND MRS. Joseph Kushner, active members of the Pocono Mountain Writers Workshop, entertained the club session Wednesday night at their home, 115 Broad St., Stroudsburg.

The meeting was devoted to checking on recent activities of the members. At present, there is one book manuscript on the desks of publishers and another is being given its final typing.

The first is a volume of personal reminiscences by Mrs. Frances Kiffin, East Stroudsburg. She announced that she has received editorial comment from McCall's Magazine on the type and style of her book.

The novel, now being completed, is by Oliver Wilson, also of East Stroudsburg, and is an historical-fiction work. The action revolves about the story of Hungry Hill, Monroe County, in the Revolutionary War.

Novel

Mrs. Diana Cohen, Minisink Hills, has a novel dealing with the sophisticated world of cartoon, movie and television, before the publishers, announced that she is starting a new one and obliged the club by reading the first chapter. It is a careful study of types of what is known as the Hill Billy group of Americans and the locale is set in West Virginia.

Mrs. Kushner, the hostess, presented for criticism the manuscript of a short story dealing with life among immigrant Russian groups and the odd juggling of fate which threw together, in this country, a number of humble folk from a small community in Mus-

Slate Belt Industrial Development Directors To Explore Feasibility Of Route 611 Change

BANGOR — Directors of the Slate Belt Industrial Development Assn. have agreed to explore the feasibility of getting Route 611 relocated through the "heart" of the Slate Belt.

The board, meeting this week, suggested that the road across Bushkill and Plainfield townships, pass between Bangor and Pen Argyl, and go over the Blue Mountains in the Fox Gap and Tott's Gap areas north of here. Present plans call for taking the new highway along the western edge of the area—bypassing Wind Gap.

Bangor Borough Engineer David Fritchard was named to head a committee on the matter. Others will be named later.

The directors also decided to seek a "distressed" classification for the area to help in its effort to attract new industries. The group will ask state legislators from Northampton County to consider classifying the northern part of the county as distressed. This would enable the area to benefit from recent state industrial aid laws.

It was also reported that $65,000 has been pledged toward the $125,000 needed as "down payment" for the construction of a proposed industrial plant. The plant would put the area in an improved bargaining position, directors agreed.

TRENTON, N. J., May 2 (U—) Gov. Meyner today reappointed his highway commissioner, Dwight R. G. Palmer of Short Hills, to the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission.

The appointment does not require Senate confirmation.

Motor Boat Bill Returns To Committee

HARRISBURG, May 2 (U—) The House today returned to the Fisheries Committee — and probable death — a bill eliminating the requirement for motorboats to carry state license plates.

Opponents of the measure contended the bill would contribute to escape of hit-and-run boaters, while cutting Fish Commission expenses only $35,000 through curtailing plate production.

The House also passed 120-16 a bill that would eliminate license buttons for fishermen. The measure went to the Senate. Under present law fishermen are issued a license button with their license card and it must be worn where it can readily be seen by wardens.

The appointment does not require Senate confirmation.

Two Things In Common For Five Senators

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, May 2 (U—) Those five senators picked for the Hall of Fame have at least two things in common.

They all failed to achieve their greatest ambition, for each, with varying degrees of eagerness, yearned to be president. And despite the pretty things said about them yesterday, Clay, Calhoun, Webster, La Follette and Taft were big enough and tough enough to stir up tremendous opposition.

Let's take a quick rundown on the human side of the five men, chosen by a special committee as "outstanding" senators.

Henry Clay of Kentucky — natural-born politician. Got into the business at 22, stayed there the rest of his life, became an expert at working out plans the bitterest opponents could agree to.

One biographer, George Simpson, says: "Clay played brag and whist, liked dancing, was fond of the ladies, loved horse racing, drank whiskey, dipped snuff, owned 50 slaves and fought duels."

Opponent

Once a long-winded opponent told Clay: "You, sir, speak for the present generation, but I speak for posterity." "Yes," said Clay, "and you seem resolved to speak until the arrival of your audience."

John C. Calhoun of South Carolina — "I don't like Henry Clay," Calhoun once said. "He's a bad man, an imposter, a creature of wicked schemes. I wouldn't speak to him, but, by god, I love him."

Spent 42 years in public life, was vice president under two presidents, J. Q. Adams and Jackson, fought hard for states rights. Once, after fainting during a hot debate, he cried, "The South, the poor South. God knows what will become of her."

Daniel Webster of Massachusetts — Like Clay, he liked whiskey and disliked bookkeeping, so often was in fiscal trouble. Was prodigious worker and speaker.

Was so accustomed to talking that he delivered an oration on his death bed, rousing himself at the end, he asked: "Have I—wife, son, doctor, friends, are you all here?—Have I, on this occasion, said anything unworthy of Daniel Webster?"

Robert M. La Follette Sr. of Wisconsin — Now looked on as an indefatigable worker for good government. Yet Teddy Roosevelt, supposedly working the same side of the street, spoke of "the La Follette type of fool radicalism." Teddy also called La Follette "a shifty self-seeker."

Robert A. Taft of Ohio — You know about Taft, of course, and of the oft repeated crack, "He has an excellent mind until he makes it up." Yet that hard fighter and foe, Harry Truman, put Taft on his list of topflight senators.

All in all, five fine politicians, five interesting human beings. Our history wouldn't be the same without them.

Robert Sebring Pays Fine

DELAWARE WATER GAP — Robert Sebring, Delaware Water Gap, yesterday paid a fine on a disorderly conduct charge.

Borough Police Chief Fred Decker said the complaint grew out of a fracas at Sebring's home in Delaware Water Gap.

New Office
Opens In Stroudsburg

F. W. ARMITAGE, Inc., a Pennsylvania corporation with home offices in Allentown, announced yesterday it had opened a Stroudsburg office at 553 Main St.

Increasing demands for their services as engineering consultants and present long-range commitments prompted the firm's decision to expand its operations, according to Francis W. Armitage, president.

The company was organized by Armitage in 1947 to offer service in the fields of mechanical, electrical, structural and tool engineering. Integrated staffs are available for services at clients' plants or facilities, Armitage said.

The technical staff, he added, is composed of a large number of engineers, designers and consultants. The firm is serving a number of industries, among which are Bethlehem Steel Co., Western Electric, Link-Belt, Mack Truck, Dana Corp., Chambersburg Engine and others.

AS ANOTHER step in the formation of a state-wide network of sand, gravel, stone, bituminous concrete and ready-mix concrete supply, Houdaille Industries, Inc., today announced their five wholly-owned subsidiaries located in New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania would henceforth operate under the name Houdaille Construction Materials, Inc.

The affected companies, acquired by Houdaille within the past 12 months, are North Jersey Quarry; Consolidated Stone & Sand Co.; Portland Sand & Gravel Co.; Commonwealth Concrete; and Seguin-Bogert, which together represent 28 plants producing producing materials used in highway, industrial, commercial and residential construction.

Executive headquarters for Houdaille Construction Materials will be the offices of the former North Jersey Quarry Co. at 10 Park Place, Morristown, N. J., with present sales and operating offices continuing at each of the 28 locations.

HOUSEWIVES throughout this area are being given an opportunity to share in hundreds of free gifts being given away by local appliance dealers as a highlight of a special showing of new model electric ranges. All manufacturers, the electric company, and virtually all local dealers are cooperating to give everyone an opportunity to learn more about the many new features which make it possible for them to cook better electrically.

During this special month-long activity (May 1-31), individual dealers are mailing or delivering "magic keys" to homes of their neighbors and customers with an invitation to try them in the lock of a treasure chest prominently displayed in their store. Not all keys will open the locks, but the lucky possessor of a key which does open the lock will have her pick of any item in the chest. These gifts range from small appliances and gadgets to gift certificates in sizeable amounts to be applied toward the purchase of an automatic 1957 electric range.

And most dealers have extended an invitation to local residents who have not received keys in the mail to stop at their store and pick up a "magic key." Participating dealers have pink and black treasure chest signs in their windows which are decorated with a modernistic "nothing measures up to electric cooking" display furnished through the cooperation of Metropolitan Edison Co.

On display in the stores during this big month are many new ranges in a variety of pleasing pastel colors as well as the "whitest white" to add sparkle to any kitchen decor.

Children May Be Answer To World Peace
Instead Of Diplomats Bearing Prejudices

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Maybe the trouble with world peace today is that we're going at it wrong. Maybe instead of calling together diplomats, whose years and prejudices bear heavily upon them, we should turn to the children.

Maybe, in short, D. Roy Miller is right in claiming that the way to true international understanding is to grab them while they're young.

Since Miller is a Philadelphia Quaker and an artist, his theory has taken an unusual turn. He has collected children's art from all over the world. He now has 12,000 paintings—"It's unparalleled in children's art"—and eventually he hopes to take it abroad. He thinks the exhibit proves that no matter how they wind up, his children started out bright-eyed and friendly.

Miller has an exhibit at the National Geographic Society, and even a casual observer will admit it's colorful and interesting.

Take the work of J. Pecenkova, a 6-year-old Czech girl. In her

"Busy ant gathers winter's food while grasshopper dances in the sun," a foresighted ant forehandedly has a wheelbarrow in which to tote his food home.

Or "A Moslem puppet looks to heaven on Judgment Day," by Jahaeddine Lakhous, 13, of Tunisia. Jamaeddine loves colors, and the desert is brilliantly yellow, the cloak is brightly red, and the puppet's nose is startlingly long.

And so on. Fishing scenes, theater scenes, jungle scenes, portraits.

Stock Market
Surges Close
To High Mark

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—The stock market surged close to its 1957 high today in the third heaviest trading session of the year.

Profit-taking in the last half hour slashed some of the best gains but the market was still well ahead on average.

Oils once again provided strong leadership. They were boosted, Wall Street sources said, by a string of improved earnings reports over 1956, and quieter political conditions in the Mid-East.

Seven of the 15 most active stocks were oils.

Steels did pretty well, too, but they lacked the wide, dramatic moves of the oil division.

Average
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 90 cents to $181.80, just 20 cents below the year's high of $182.00 reached Jan. 4. The industrial component rose $1.30 to a new 1957 high, the rails rose 80 cents, and the utilities rose 20 cents to another of their succession of new 1957 highs.

Based on the average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $1,097,000,000.

Volume totaled 2,160,000 shares compared with 2,310,000 yesterday. Of the 1,174 issues traded, gains outnumbered losses by 591 to 330.

The number of new 1957 highs swelled to an impressive 104 compared with 20 new lows.

For the eighth straight session, Bethlehem Steel headed the list of most active stocks. It was up $\frac{1}{4}$ at 47 $\frac{1}{2}$ on 78,900 shares.

On the American Stock Exchange prices were irregular on volume of 1,090,000 shares compared with 830,000 yesterday. Corporate bonds declined in dull trading, U. S. Government bonds rose in over the counter transactions.

Modern Church Structures
Targets Of Mixed Comment

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—The little old lady looked politely at the modern structure of glass and steel and brick.

"It's very interesting," she said at last. "But it doesn't look like a church. Not my idea of a church anyway."

Her summation reflects the thinking of a great many churchgoers. And the Rev. Dr. Marvin Halverson is deeply concerned about it.

Dr. Halverson, executive director of the Department of Worship and the Arts, National Council of Churches, says:

"Generally, church buildings are designed with the purpose of saying something. And they should speak in the language of today instead of using the language of the past."

To continue building churches in Gothic and Renaissance style seems to Dr. Halverson to deny that God can speak his word in the language of each new age.

Community Life
At one time the church was the center of community life.

"Now the church has to compete with other institutions for men's loyalties," says Dr. Halverson. "The problem is how to build in the midst of all these complexities, how to transcend all these institutions."

He points out that an axiom of the architectural profession is that architecture always tells the truth about the society that creates it. What, he wonders, does our continued preoccupation with church architecture of centuries ago tell about the spiritual climate of our times?

The problem is especially important now, he thinks, because church building is on the upswing.

Religious bodies of all faiths in this country are reported to have spent 775 million dollars in 1956 for religious buildings. This is 39 million dollars more than in the previous year.

Well, then, what kind of a

Miss Smiley Is Bride Of L. P. Woodling

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Doris K. Smiley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smiley of East Stroudsburg RD 3, to LeRoy Paul Woodling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Woodling of Reeders. They were married in the Anamink Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon, April 20.

Rev. Justin Feltham, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. Walter Sebring of Tannersville sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt at the altar. Mrs. Robert Fralley, Bartonsville, was accompanist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a Queen Anne collar, long sleeves, fitted bodice and a bouffant skirt with tulle trim. She wore a three-tiered silk illusion veil draped from a matching cloche trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a bride's prayer book with a white orchid.

Mrs. Josephine Sebring, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of blue nylon and acetate lace over taffeta with matching accessories. Mrs. Elizabeth Metzgar, another sister, wore a similar gown in pink. They both carried colonial bouquets.

George Woodling, Stroudsburg, was his brother's best man. Ushers were Donald Sebring and Wilmer Metzgar, brothers-in-law of the bride.

A reception was held at the Tannersville firehouse for approximately 100 guests.

The bride was graduated from East Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1952. Until her marriage she was secretary at the International Boiler Works. Mr. Woodling attended Pocono Schools and is employed by Paul Edinger, contractor. Mr. and Mrs. Woodling are at home to their friends in their new house at Reeders.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Everybody has their pet dislikes. Some people hate to iron and others hate to do dishes. I hate to look for things. Probably because I usually do it with such poor success. It's still a family joke that I once mislaid a whole baked ham, minus four slices, that I haven't found yet.

Since that was about four years ago, I hope I never do, now. But even the ham sort of dwindles in the face of my most recent failure. You wouldn't think anybody could fall to find a 100-acre forest fire, would you? Particularly when you knew the general location, could see the glow in the sky and smell the smoke.

Oh, Mac and I found a fire, all right—but it was the "loneliest fire I ever did see, all by itself smoldering away. No leaping flames that Mac could take a picture of, no smoke-grimed firemen I could describe in their grim battle, nothing except isolated stumps smoking away and emitting a dull glow like punk on the old-fashioned Fourth of July.

But don't think I found it dull. Even smoldering stumps when they smolder on both sides of the road at once and flare up behind you can scare you into visions of being trapped by encircling flames and fleeing with deer and bear while tall trees toppled.

Maybe the main fire was further along that reeking road, but the first turning we came to was the one I used and with gratitude. Somewhere firemen were fighting valiantly but not on the Winona Falls road and not on the Resica road and not on the Sand Hill road, they weren't.

Still you did feel a little sheepish coming in, sans story and sans pictures, to report you couldn't

Children To Give Church Program Sun.

Tannersville—A young harpist, Elizabeth Ann Dietz, of Pen Argyl, will be guest soloist at the Children's Service to be held Sunday night, May 5, at the Tannersville Methodist Church.

The program will open with an organ prelude "The Swan" by Barbara Wertheimer; the Scripture reading by Sylvia Jean Granacher; and prayer by Nancy Bessecker. There will be a welcome song by a quartet: Marie and Nancy Bessecker, Joyce and Dottie Hay; "Angelus," harp solo, Elizabeth Ann Dietz; "In the Garden" vocal trio, the Wertheimer sisters; "Rock of Ages," vocal solo, Dickie Motts; "Whispering Hope," accordion solo, Carolyn Plevyak; "Why Taught the Little Bird?" vocal solo, Bonnie Kaye Bessecker; "Love Divine," piano solo, Keturah Dodd; "Dust on the Bible" vocal duet, Rose and Joyce Silfee; "He" trumpet solo, William Gaskill; "Don't Send Those Kids to Sunday School" vocal duet, Sharon and Kenlyn Wertheimer; "Liebestraum," harp solo, Elizabeth Ann Dietz; "Bring Them In" vocal solo, Jessie Stout; "The Lord is Counting on You" vocal solo, Duane Arndt; "Ten Little Children" vocal solo, Joan Meadows; offertory, "Arioso," Barbara Wertheimer; "I Know God is Love" vocal duet, Barry and Marjorie Meekes; "Master the Tempest is Raging," piano solo, Elizabeth Ann Dietz; "It Is No Secret" vocal duet, Glenn and William Bishig; "Let the Sunshine In" vocal solo, Nancy Bessecker; "Onward Christian Soldiers" and the "Old Rugged Cross," accordion solo, Peter Ask; "Lily of the Valley," vocal duet, Jean Shafer and Bud Bonser; "Faith of Our Fathers," clarinet solo, Cathy Shick; "The Bible Tells Me So," vocal duet, Joyce and Dottie Hay; "In the Sweet By and By," harp solo, Elizabeth Ann Dietz; "Let's Go to Church," vocal solo, Sylvia Jean Granacher; "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," song, Marie and Nancy Bessecker, Joyce and Dottie Hay.

Rev. LeRoy Bernard will give the benediction; and Barbara Wertheimer will play "Londonderry Air" as the organ postlude.

Everyday I live I learn something. I established something of a record for me yesterday—I learned two things. I learned, for instance, that "conch" is pronounced konk . . . and that this is the shell from which most of the cameos used in modern jewelry are made. My teacher was Doris Hinton, who called me into the jewelry department to see the special shipment of cameo earrings, pins, and pendants we are now selling on consignment until Mother's Day only.

Cameos have always been favorites with me. I'm not sure why, for most people regard them as being too mature for wear by younger women. I've never thought of them this way. I regard them as beautiful works of art . . . the plainer they are, the better I like them. Delicate sculptured lines appeal strongly to me . . . and I like the various colors—not just the clear carnelian with the ivory-like carving. I like those with an orchid or pink cast . . . and also the deeper light-chocolate tones. But frankly, I wouldn't give two pins for a cameo lady wearing a gold or silver chain complete with diamond pendant. That gliding of the lily ruins the entire effect for me, except perhaps in very rare and skillful instances.

Probably the most beautiful cameo I ever saw was in a Schenectady, N. Y., jewelry store. It was priced at 120.00, and had an exquisitely carved head, shown against an intricate background of grape leaves and grapes. Longingly I gazed at it everytime I passed the window. In a frenzy of yearning, I priced it. I held it in my hand, and found that it weighed far too much to ever rest comfortably on the neckline of a dress. In that moment, the cameo lady became to me strictly an objet d'art, rather than an accessory . . . and while I still think back upon her magnificence, I relinquished all wish to own her.

Then, a few years ago, when I first came to Wyckoff's, I purchased a cameo brooch from our jewelry department for 8.00. It is small, although it would be considered large in a ring setting. Of all the cameos I have ever seen, this has the most delicate profile, I think. It is graceful, sweet, and pure . . . everytime I open the box to gaze at her, my cameo lady delights me.

Yet, all this time, I was not quite sure of what composition cameos were carved. As is the case with so many things that catch our fancy, I accepted without curiosity—that is the difference between being an adult and being a child. Now, thanks to our new cameo shipment, I have learned that cameos can be carved of many things—including natural stone and various shells, but by far the greatest number today are made of the conch shell found in Zanzibar, or along the east coast of Africa. The conch, I am told, is a salt water snail.

Although the shells are quite easily found by fishermen, those actually suitable for use are not plentiful. Some are off-color, or lack the necessary surface upon which to carve the cameos for commercial purpose. Those that are suitable are said to be from five to ten years old. At this time they have attained the rich colors essential to produce an attractive, appealing work of art. The color may be brown, known as sardonyx, or the more common pink and carnelian.

These conch shells are exported in great quantities to Italy where they are cut and carved by artisans who do this work exclusively. The work requires great patience, ability, and artistic instinct, and has become an occupation performed, almost without exception, by Italians in the southern part of Italy.

The cameos in our Mother's Day display are very lovely, and one marvels at their purity of line, and the fact that, inexpensive as they are, they represent the handwork of a real artist. Settings are either gold filled or 10K gold. Pendants are priced from 4.00; earrings and pins from 5.00. Some are heart shaped, and these mother would particularly treasure. My favorite is a Madonna, wouldn't you know? Top price is 15.00, I believe—and believing (after seeing) is difficult . . . you'll agree after you've studied our display.

THE CASE of a player, two ball clubs and the Pocono Mountain Baseball League is closed. The circuit, in a special meeting involving the quartet, acted, as was expected according to law.

The issue wasn't one player or two ball clubs. The issue was whether contracts were or are to be honored by all clubs and all players.

The crux of the whole situation was a player was signed by one ball club and was sought by another. The question arose whether the original signer of the player had rights to him, whether the other nine, which had desired him wholeheartedly could pry him loose from his first club.

What had to be considered was the validity of the PML contract. This was decided with the help of the PML counsellor when it was ruled that the player involved must play out the season with the team he first inked a pact.

From here, the PML made a wise move. Not only from the standpoint of player but from the over-all soundness of the league. Decisions like the above strengthen the loop and give John Q. Public the impression that the PML is no fly by night outfit.

Stroudsburg High's big first big test of its hitting strength will be given by Northampton High when the Mountaineers invade the Konkrete Kids' lair Tuesday for a Lehigh Valley League game.

Northampton, prior to today's game, had shut out two foes, as their pitchers limited the opposition to a mere eight hits over-all.

Stroudsburg, also prior to today, has averaged 15 runs per game, par for any course. It will be a battle of pitching against hitting Tuesday. Too bad the game isn't scheduled for Giffels, so the home fans could get a look at their favorites in a real test.

Jack Kist is having a tough time getting hits out of his Cavalier East Stroudsburg High nine this season.

The Cavalier mentor said, "Even in a practice game the boys can't get going. The other night we played five innings against each other and the two nines couldn't accumulate one safety."

Kist plans to continue practice games, hoping the boys will pick up valuable pointers under actual game conditions and that the batters get on to pitchers firing away at regular pace.

Time marches on. And Joe Whalen, the sports director of the Radio Station WVPO found this out. Last Sunday Joe troked to the Gotham to take in the Yanks and Boston Red Sox afternoon game.

Whalen, a devout Yankee fan and especially a Mickey Mantle devotee, thought he'd browse around downtown New York before going out to the ball park.

After taking in a few sights, Whalen finally worked his way through the Yankee Stadium turnstiles. When the porter dusted off the sportscaster's seat, Whalen sat down and turned his head toward the diamond. What was going on?

Mickey Mantle was already tossed out of the game for protesting a third strike and the fourth inning was in progress.

The only trouble was Whalen forgot to turn his clock ahead, thus, he lost an hour, plus a third of the ball game and didn't get a chance to see his favorite Mantle perform.

Mountaineers Host Catty, Seek 6th Straight; Cavaliers Entertain Nazareth In L-N Duel

Stroudsburg

JERRY STULGATIS' unbeaten and not yet extended Stroudsburg High baseball team will go after its sixth straight victory of the season today when the Mountaineers host Cataqua in a Lehigh Valley League game out at Gordon Giffels Field. Game time is 3:30 p. m.

The Mountaineers will send left-hander Jimmy Swingle to the hill in an attempt to bag their third consecutive LV triumph.

Handling the slants of Swingle, who is 2-0 on the season, will be Don Stopp, heavy-hitting catcher.

Probable Lineup

The rest of the Stroudsburg lineup will have Charley Cramsey at first; Barry Tretheway at second; Ron Stopp, the other half of the power clouting twin brother duo, third.

at short, and Billy Schoonover at long. In the outfield, Dick Cramsey will cover left, versatile Ron (Super) Phillips will be in center and pitcher-outfielder Frank Radler in right.

Cataqua will invade the Mountaineers lair with an 0-2 record in the LV and a 2-3 long record on the season.

East Stroudsburg

CURT HICKMAN will carry the mound hopes of East Stroudsburg High today when the Cavaliers host Nazareth in a regular Lehigh-Northampton League outing at Memorial Stadium, starting at 4 p. m.

Hickman, a southpaw, has latched on to the only Cavalier victory this season, holding a decision over Hellertown.

Nazareth will enter East Stroudsburg with a 1-0 record in the L-N. Headed by the Blue Eagles team are Connie Shimer and Dick Hunt, two boys who have paced the Cement-Mixers in football and basketball as well as baseball.

Several Changes
Jack Kist, head East Stroudsburg coach, made several changes in his starting lineup for today's game. Behind the plate will be Bob Herman, erstwhile first baseman; while on first will be Bob Stine, who in previous outings did the catching.

Bobby Kassner will be at second, Dale Metzger on short, and Corky Smith at third.

Covering the outfield will be Frank Lupin in left, Bob Plattenburg in center and either Evan Reese or Helmut Garner in right. On the season, East Stroudsburg is 1-4, while in L-N play the Cavaliers own a 1-1 record.

Chestnuthill Posts Second Loop Victory

BRODHEADSVILLE — Chestnuthill High romped to its second Monroe League victory yesterday, walloping Barrett, 14-3.

Dick Serfass limited Barrett to three hits, striking out 10 in pitching the Hillers to the verdict. Serfass also helped his own cause with a homer.

Al Barney also homered for Chestnuthill.

Reed Gravel, the first of three Barrett hurlers to see action, was tagged with the loss. Jerry Cheslock and Charley Harrison followed Gravel to the hill.

It was Barrett's first league outing. Chestnuthill's record is now 2-1.
